
Zotero: accept invitation and create your team group

From marc@prodegee.com <marc@prodegee.com>

Date Wed 18/03/2026 04:20

To rmit-2026-s1@prodegee.com <rmit-2026-s1@prodegee.com>

Hi everyone,

I have sent Zotero invitations to all students and supervisors to join the Prodegee capstone Zotero group. Please check your email and accept the invitation.

This shared group is read-only for file storage — you can browse and cite references, but cannot upload PDFs to it.

Each team will need to create its own Zotero group for managing your team's literature. Here is what to do:

1. Go to <https://www.zotero.org/groups/new> and create a group
2. Name it with your team code (e.g., "DA1 — Regional Facility Data Discovery", "DS1 — Temporal Co-Construction Patterns", etc.)
3. Invite your team members and your academic supervisor — do NOT include me (marc@prodegee.com)
4. Under Settings > Library, set File Editing to "Any group member" so all members can attach PDFs

This setup gives you a shared space where your team can collaboratively manage papers, attach PDFs, and add annotations, while the main Prodegee group serves as a cross-team reference library.

If you have any questions about Zotero setup, check the tool-setup guide in the repository or reach out.

Best,

Marc Torra

marc@prodegee.com

 PastedGraphic-1.tiff

Solutions for financing effective climate action

LinkedIn Profile